Investment Objective & Strategy

The fund seeks to provide long-term capital appreciation by investing in common stocks believed to be undervalued. Income is a secondary objective. Employ a value-oriented investment approach emphasizing large-capitalization companies with value characteristics and that may be temporarily out of favor but have good prospects for capital appreciation. Our in-house research team seeks to identify undervalued stocks by considering, among other factors, key financial ratios such as price/earnings, price/book value, price/sales, and price/cash flow.

The Institutional Large-Cap Value Fund changed its name to Large-Cap Value Fund and designated all outstanding shares as I Class as of May 1, 2020. Performance shown prior to May 1, 2020, reflects the performance of the fund while it was structured as the T. Rowe Price Institutional Large-Cap Value Fund.

The fund(s) may have other share classes available that offer different investment minimums and fees. See the prospectus for details.

Risks: Large-cap stocks: Securities issued by large-cap companies tend to be less volatile than securities issued by small- and mid-cap companies. However, large-cap companies may not be able to attain the high growth rates of successful small- and mid-cap companies, especially during strong economic periods, and may be unable to respond as quickly to competitive challenges. Value investing: The fund's value approach to investing could cause it to underperform other stock funds that employ a different investment style. See the prospectus for more detail on the fund's principal risks.
