INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGY

The fund seeks long-term capital appreciation.

Invests in a variety of developed and emerging market equity funds, and from time to time, a money market fund.

BENEFITS AND RISKS

Professionally managed allocation of assets among a broad range of stock funds, which, in turn, have holdings in many different foreign countries, industrialized as well as emerging markets, and in both large and small companies.

Subject to general stock market risks.

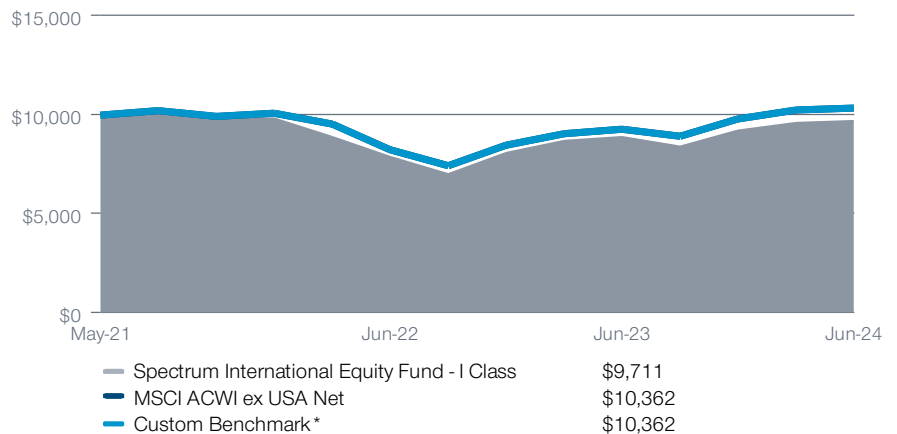

Funds that invest overseas generally carry more risk than funds that invest strictly in U.S. assets.

Risks include currency risk, the effects of negative currency exchange rates.

To the extent the fund has investments in emerging market countries, it will be more subject to abrupt and severe price declines.

CUMULATIVE RETURNS

Performance data quoted represents past performance and is not a reliable indicator of future performance. Investment return and principal value will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. To obtain the most recent month-end performance, visit troweprice.com. The T. Rowe Price fund shares the portfolio of an existing fund (the original share class of the fund is referred to as the "investor class"). The total return figures for this I Class have been calculated using the performance data of the Investor Class up to the inception date of the I Class (5/3/21) and the actual performance results of the I Class since that date. Because the I Classes are expected to have lower expenses than the Investor Classes, the I Class performance, had it existed over the periods shown, would have been higher. The average annual total return figures reflect the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains, if any.

*From inception through February 28, 2009, the custom benchmark was a blend of 90% MSCI EAFE Index Net and 10% JP Morgan Non-US Global Index. As of March 1, 2009, the returns for the 90/10 benchmark have been linked to returns for the MSCI All-Country World ex-US Index Net, which is now the fund's primary benchmark.

The fund(s) may have other share classes available that offer different investment minimums and fees. See the prospectus for details.
